Course Details:

Sustainable Buildings for Today: Surfing the Wave of Energy Efficiency

8 -10 am | 2 hours | Herberger Room

A completed building project starts out as good as it gets. How well it performs and endures depends on a number of factors. Builders have to be able to think on their feet to adapt when faced with an ever expanding array of new products, regulations and market forces. You heard Mac Pearce, Environment Health Consultant speak at the 2011 Expo - and you wanted more - so he is back with common sense approaches to building energy efficient homes in MN climates. (Includes Energy)

Grand Slam Sponsor:

Lessons from the Field, Avoiding Costly Issues with Lead, Asbestos and Mold

10:15 -11:45 or
2:45 – 4:15 | 1.5 hours | Stockinger Room

How to avoid spending more money than necessary when dealing with EPA's Lead Rule, Asbestos or Mold. Avoid liability plus how to make the job site safer. Dave Gutterud, Indoor Environment Group. This course will be repeated again at 2:45.

Sponsor: 10:15 The Design Team
2:45 Tri-County Abstract and Title Guaranty, Inc.

Cure Concrete Before You Leave

10:15 -11:45 | 1.5 hours | Wilson Room

Greg Ringler, sales manager for Knife River will teach best practices for quality exterior concrete including proper steps in curing concrete for better appearance, and reducing crazing, dusting, scaling, and other concrete issues.

Sponsor: Knife River

Sales and Use Tax for the Construction Industry

10:15 -11:45 | 1.5 hours | Herberger Room

Brian Mackinac & Mark Skaj from Schlenner Wenner will clear up the confusion on when a construction business should charge sales tax on labor (construction, installation, repair, and fabrication), tax exempt construction contracts and audits.

Sponsor: Title Professionals and Abstract Co.

Residential Fall Protection Requirements for OSHA 2011

12:30 – 2:30 | 2 hours | Herberger Room

Learn the recent changes that went into effect June 2011 regarding residential construction fall protection policy and requirements employers must meet to protect their workers. Procedures and equipment to use to meet the challenges of protecting residential construction workers who perform work six feet or more above lower levels; also ladder safety techniques. Presenter Andy Smoka, OSHA Compliance and Consultation

Sponsor: Apollo Insurance Agency

Legal Encounters of the Third Kind

2:45 – 4:15 | 1.5 hours | Herberger Room

You think this could never happen to you - think again. Residential construction attorneys from Gray Plant Mooty will present a mixed bag of legal case studies that you need to know.

Sponsor: Gray Plant Mooty

Compliance Safety & Accountability How to Avoid Fines

2:45 – 4:15 | 1.5 hours | Wilson Room

Tim Sakry, a Construction Truck Operator Training Instructor from Hennepin Technical College will speak on an abbreviated course to review CSA (Compliance, Safety and Accountability) and how drivers of vehicles weighing 10,000 pounds or more are affected by Federal DOT rules.

Sponsor: Multiple Concepts Interiors-Carpet One
